

Additional Support

Truman E. Ellis

Since the aim of my research will be to develop algorithms for high performance computing systems, I will be going through many compute hours. It is difficult to estimate now just how many I will need, but that is something I can discuss with other HPC researchers at Sandia. I would prefer to attend at least two conferences per year to exchange ideas with other researchers in this field. I would also like to maintain professional memberships in SIAM and ACM.